CPAP

CPAP refers to “continuous positive airway pressure,” an oxygen-delivery method that some types of medical devices utilize to aid respiratory patients who need help breathing properly. MedToYou.com features a variety of CPAP medical products and accessories designed to accommodate persons who require this kind of therapy.

This category includes CPAP machines, interfaces, and accessories to treat sleep disorders and other more complex respiratory conditions that necessitate PAP therapy, divided into easy-to-navigate subcategories for your convenience. Most of the CPAP products found here require a prescription by a healthcare professional who has formally examined the patient, so you must be able to send that information with your order

Sleep therapy devices such as continuous positive air pressure (CPAP) devices, Bi-levels (Bi-PAP), masks, and accessories designed to treat sleep disorders such as obstructive sleep apnea (OSA) and central sleep apnea (CSA).

Oxygen

The type of devices and supplies included in this category are designed to deliver medical oxygen therapy to those patients that need treatment of severe respiratory conditions such as COPD and other disorders requiring medical grade oxygen. Most items in this category require a prescription by a healthcare professional that has previously evaluated the patient's condition, so please be ready to send that along with your order

Buy Used

To some of our customers, purchasing used medical equipment might be a feasible alternative to paying full price. This is especially true for some of the more expensive specialized equipment for which the costs tend to reach thousands of dollars. With this in mind, MedToYou.com gives our customers the option to choose from our used equipment lineup. In here, you will find perfectly functional equipment for pennies on the dollar.
